

it's a fair price!

"parts for a vw camper are cheaper, in real terms, than they were 10 or even 30 years ago"

I'm sure you have read or heard in the news that the cost of oil is rising, the £ is weakening against the Euro and that raw materials such as metal have risen dramatically over the last year. You probably will have noticed some of these changes, for example when you fill your camper up with fuel or if you go to Europe it is no longer a 'cheap' break, as one Euro is worth 80p as I write this article!

However, today many parts for a VW Camper are cheaper, in real terms, than they were 10 or even 30 years ago. For example a Devon driveway awning cost in 1977 over 2 weeks wages*. In 1989 a window rubber for a Baywindow camper cost £24.95 from Volkswares of Leicester and a 12volt headlamp is still the same price it was 10 years ago.

*Guardian website list a working mans wage in 1977 as £68.70 gross and a 1977 Devon sales brochure lists an awning as £121+ sales tax.

An example being we will match a Bosch distributor cap to another Bosch or German cap, but NOT against a Far East copy.

Instead of having a 'knee jerk' price hike on items where we just cannot absorb the increases, we are reviewing our prices every month. So go online to find our latest prices, but don't think we see this as an opportunity to profiteer at your expense, instead we are so concerned that you can still afford to run your VW that we will guarantee we are the cheapest, like for like in the UK. Every month the parts we have to look at the price of, we will also make sure they are the most competitively priced and we will publish our research on our website every month.

"we will also make sure they are the most competitive priced and we will publish our research on our website every month"

our price promise

like for like we will match or beat any other uk mail order price we will not use any gimmicks or pointless offers to confuse the prices.

we will do our utmost to keep the cost of owning a vw camper affordable whilst still using top quality parts.

Our price promise covers 'Total order' value. Includes mainland UK delivery, excluding items marked 'BULK' on our website.

just KAMPERS

All offers are subject to change without prior notice and can be changed/alterd at any time. Information correct at time of going to press.

new trolley jack professional quality at a diy price!

One of our newest products is this professional heavy duty trolley jack. It features a 360 degree lifting saddle with a lifting range from 135mm to 465mm and a maximum lifting weight of 2.25 tonnes.

Only £89.95!

Not only can it lift twice the weight of your van, but it can pack away small thanks to the collapsible, removable handle.

J14398

To place an order visit www.justkampers.com or call our sales team on 0845 1252125